Detroit, Mich., Oct. 16.—Arrangements are being made to begin the second trial next week of Dr. G. K. Boyajian, the Armenian, who shot and killed his nephew, Harootian Gostanian last spring. The first trial ended in a disagreement of the jury. A commission of medical experts appointed by the court is now examining the accused man with a view to determining his sanity.

The killing of Gostanian occurred on April 28 last, under circumstances of a most sensational character. The tragedy took place in a crowded court room, where Gostanian was being tried for a statutory charge. Dr. Boyajian fired four shots at his nephew, three of which found their mark. The slayer told a remarkable story of his discovery of the alleged relations between his wife and nephew, whom he had brought from his home at Lynn, Mass., and was educating in a local medical college. NATION'S HEADS VISIT TOGETHER

Presidents Taft and Diaz Exchange Courtesies in El Paso and Juarez.

MARKED BY GREAT CORDIALITY

Mexico's Executive Crosses the Line Into Texas This Morning and This Afternoon Taft Pays Visit to Mexican Town—Display of Military, Great Crowds and Much Music.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 16.—The city of El Paso and the Mexican city of Juarez, across the Rio Grande, shared in the honor today of being the scene of the most picturesque international event in the history of the two North American republics. President Diaz, president and ruler of Mexico for nearly thirty years, came to El Paso to meet President Taft and the latter crossed over to Juarez to return the visit of the chief executive of Mexico. The meeting of the two rulers was marked by great cordiality.

It is no exaggeration to say that no official head of a friendly power would have received a more cordial greeting in the United States than was accorded most spontaneously to President Diaz. An the same can be said with equal truth in regard to the welcome given to the president of the United States when he stepped on Mexican soil.

Both in the matter of decorations and the welcome from the great crowd which thronged the vicinity of the Chamber of Commerce building, where the meeting of the two rulers took place, the city of El Paso did things handsomely. Mayor Sweeney has proclaimed a general holiday and business everywhere was suspended. Lavish decorations brightened the streets through which the presidential processions passed.

From the time that President Taft arrived in the city from the west this morning, until his return from Juarez this afternoon to review the parade and hold a reception in honor of the members of the Ohio society and others, awaiting meanwhile the hour fixed for his return to Juarez for tonight's banquet, everything moved with a clockwork regularity.

From an early hour in the morning the streets of El Paso had been filled with soldiers in uniform. Regiments of infantry, artillery and cavalry had been brought from Forts Bliss and San Houston to form the brilliant military escort which was one of the most conspicuous features of the international demonstration. On the Mexican side were the presidential bodyguard, consisting of sixty men in gorgeous uniforms of green and gold, several regiments of infantry and a regiment of the famous Zapadores Military bands were everywhere and in the parade this afternoon were the bands of the Ninth Infantry, the Third cavalry, the Nineteenth infantry and several others. The famous police band of the City of Mexico headed the parade in Juarez.

The arrival of President Diaz on this side was signalled by a salute of twenty-one guns. Assisting in the reception of the Mexican executive were Secretaries Dickinson and Nagel.

The local change in time goes into effect at least two weeks earlier than in previous years. It generally has occurred on or about November 1.

Postmaster General Hitchcock, Governor Campbell of Texas and his staff and Mayor Sweeney and the city officials of El Paso. The military bands, by Brig. Gen. Myer and staff formed in procession and escorted President Diaz to the stand in front of the Chamber of Commerce building, where the meeting with President Taft took place.

The same formalities were observed, when, two hours later President Taft and his party crossed the international bridge and were received by President Diaz in the plaza in front of the ancient church of Guadalupe, erected in the fifteenth century. A distinguished body of Mexican civil and military officials assisted in welcoming the Taft party.

CHASE OSBORN ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Urged By Friends and Press Everywhere in State Upper Peninsula's Favorite Son Decides to Make Run. "Osborn, Harmony and a New Deal" Is Slogan.

Sault Ste. Marie, Oct. 16.—Renewed pressure from friends in all sections of the state culminated today in a definite announcement of the candidacy of Chase S. Osborn for the republican nomination for governor.

"After careful consideration of the situation," said Mr. Osborn, "I have come to feel that some expression of my attitude is due my friends who have so warmly urged my candidacy for the governorship. Several months ago when evidence of this sentiment first was given publicly I declared my determination to await events and under no circumstances to yield to opportunity unless convinced of the existence of a real popular demand that I become a candidate. Recent developments have demonstrated to my satisfaction the existence of such a demand, so widespread and insistent as to constitute an appeal to my sense of duty as a citizen far more than to any feeling of personal ambition.

"During the progress of the campaign I shall make clear the principles which will control me, and the policies I shall endeavor to pursue, should the people of Michigan honor me with election to the governorship."

25,000 Majority in the U. P.

Sault Ste. Marie, Oct. 16.—"Osborn, Harmony and a New Deal," is the slogan of the Osborn Campaign committee, which is rapidly forming in the Twelfth district, to foster and promote the Osborn candidacy. The goal to which it will work is a 25,000 majority for its favorite son in the upper peninsula alone. That the Osborn candidacy will sweep the peninsula from the Montreal to the Straits in a storm of popular enthusiasm is already evident. The district feels that for the first time in its history an excellent opportunity is offered to place an upper peninsula man in the governor's chair. It is also felt that such an outcome would do much to closely cement the two peninsulas in that bond of sympathy and understanding which is essential to the public welfare of the state.

Popular Throughout State.

While Osborn's strength in his own district is tremendous, it is also made evident by newspaper comment and by the constant stream of letters tendering support which has poured in upon him, that, throughout the state at large Mr. Osborn has a remarkable following. This is partly due to his activities in state affairs during the past which has given him a wide acquaintance, but quite as much of this support is due to the general recognition of his special fitness for important executive work. His personal qualifications, as a successful business man, as an administrator, as a progressive and fearless leader, as a public speaker, and his preparation by wide travel and comprehensive study of public affairs, combine to make him in the estimation of his supporters, in all sections of the state, an ideal public official and worthy of the highest trust and most complete confidence.

Will Make Aggressive Campaign.

Chase S. Osborn was a candidate for the nomination for governor ten years ago. Since then he has devoted himself to business and a study of governmental and administrative questions which has taken him into all quarters of the civilized world, giving him an expert knowledge of political matters which is shared by few public men in the country. His ability as a public speaker is widely recognized, and in addition, he is possessed of an attractive, magnetic personality which wins friends for him on every hand. He has declared his intention of making an aggressive, energetic campaign and will in all probability be heard by the great majority of the citizens of Michigan before the campaign ends. In such a campaign his abilities make him a formidable contestant.
